Bajo la Fresca /ˈbaxo la ˈfreska/

bajo: Under; below.
a la fresca: A Spanish tradition of sitting outside in the evening to relax and socialize in the cool air.

_refuge _coexistence _athmosphere

Sara Serés Béjar
Özgün Ege Bilgiç
Elifsu Genç

Patios de Córdoba

1918

Patios opened to the public

1921

First patio competition

1956

Festival de los Patios Cordobeses

2012

Recognized by UNESCO

Garzón Herranz, Rafael. 1923.
Archivo Municipal de Córdoba.

Patios de Córdoba

¡Climate!

- Hot and dry Mediterranean climate
- Very high summer temperatures
- High humidity
- Limited rainfall

&

¿Micro-Climate?

The patios create a microclimate within the larger climate of Córdoba.

Walls, vegetation, shade* and *water interact to create a cooler and more protected environment.

But Actually, Patios in Córdoba Are;

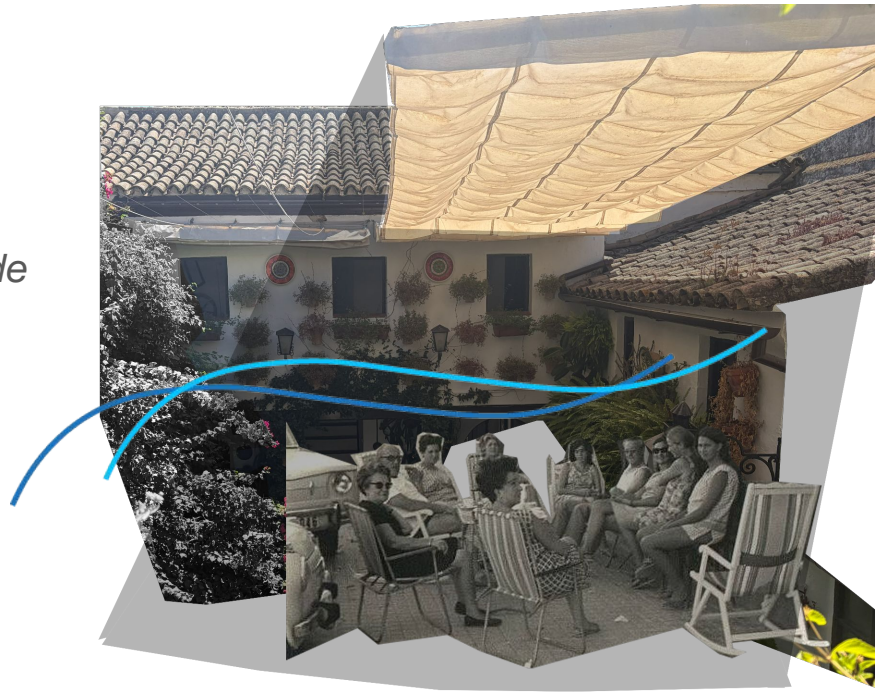

More Than a Courtyard
(social life - neighbours - tomar el fresco)

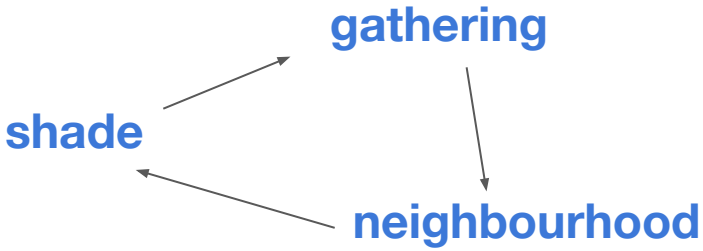

Refuge
(shelter for people plants and animals -- life)

Community and the Patio

Patios de Córdoba

tomar el fresco: A Spanish tradition of sitting outside in the evening to relax and socialize in the cool air.

Patio as Refuge

Patios de Córdoba

People

Plants

Water

Shade, moisture and protection create conditions for life to gather.

Our Site

Patio San Basilio 44

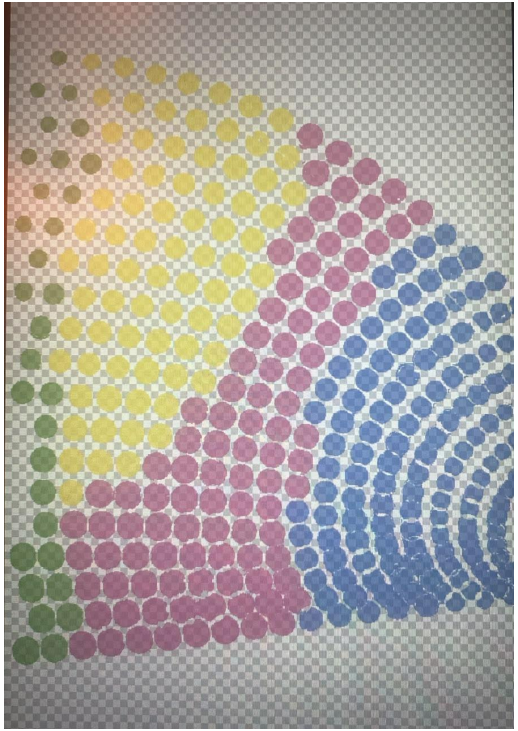

Colours of the patio

Our Intervention

Bajo La Fresca

Gradient colourful landscape to mimic already existing patio

Making a continuous landscape, and trying to find a solution to the limited gardening space in the patio

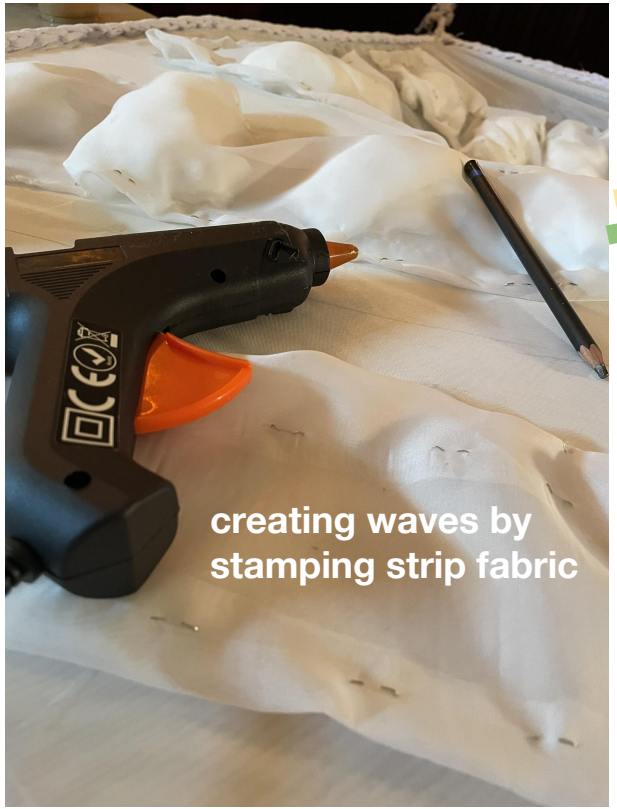

Process

First prototype!

Process

Carrying Scent

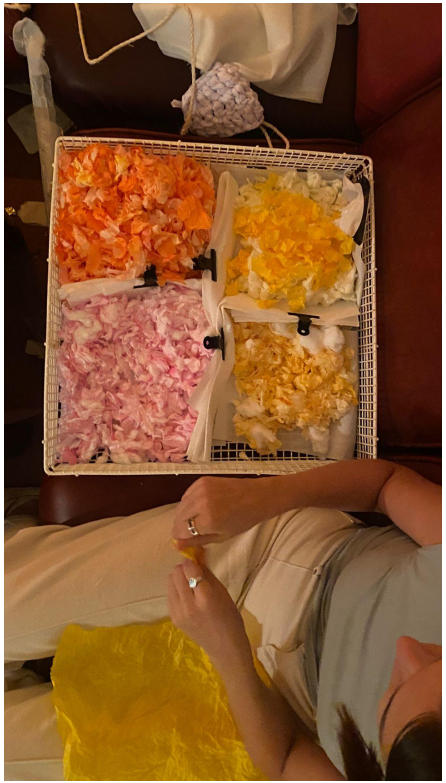

For the petals that would be placed inside the pockets, we decided to use cotton!

We dyed the cotton and frayed it to give it a more natural, petal-like texture. Then, we applied different scented materials onto them.

orange and lemon peels too!

like anti-mosquito scent perfume!!

Bajo La Fresca

The End

Thanks for listening!!

We would appreciate some questions if you feel like it!!